OBJECTS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

"For God and country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perperuate a 100 per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incluents of our association in - the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the mas-ter of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual/ helpfulness."-Preamble to the Constitution of the Legion.

gion was born. It crept out of cootleladen billets in France without name or purpose, other than a determination to have an organization that would stand for America and the unselfish principles of American Democracy, No one knows where the thought originated. It was spontaneous. The demand that came from officers and men resulted in a joint assemblage at Paris from March 15 to March 17A1919. Rank was thrown aside; privates argued with colonels; comradeship entered in, and the manhood of America displayed in this first caucus that the army of the United States had a militant soul and conscience as well as a rousers at the St. Louis caucus in May of last year, where Legionaires ir I every state and possession of the United States put their "fed-blooded spirit of sacrifice into principles that have been declared to be a practical application of the Sermon on the Mount. At the Minneapolis convention in November these purposes were officially adopted and the Legion has established branch departments to care for each declaration it then made, What the Legion has accomplished in Kentucky is typical of what it has done in every State in the Union. Kentucky has 105 Legion posts, with a membership of more than 8,000, and by the time of the next state conven-tion in August it is expected that every county in the state will have at least one local post and that the membership will amount to 20,000 former service men.

The American Legion of Kentucky plans first to take care of the disabled as a result of the war, and the widows and orphens of those who died in the service. For this purpose Bureaus of Rehabilitation, war risk insurance and re-employment are being operated.

Perhaps the biggest work the Kentucky Legionaires have undertaken and will prosecute for the general public welfare is the stimulation of a 100 cent Americanism. This work found its model in the December cam-paigr in Louisville, instituted jointly by the Citizens' Auxiliary Committee, headed by Marvin H. Lewis, and the comulattee of the American Legion.

The Legion is working for the Amerleanization of the foreign-born element, which annually comes to Kentucky, to the end that it may be as-similated in a practical way into the ideals of America. The Legion is seek-ing the general use of the English language and the proper control of imml-

Commander Evangeline Booth Makes Public Annual Home Service Fund Accounting.

EXPANSION OF WORK IN ALL DEPARTMENTS NOTED

Popular Organization's Budget for 1920 Totals $10,000,000-Details of Figures for 1919 and 1920,

New York, April 12.-Expansion and advancement in every department of Salvation Army work as a result of the 1919 Home Service Fund are shown in a full accounting of that Fund Just made public by Commander Evangeline Booth at the National Headquarters of the organization here. The financial statement, which is of January 31 1920, shows total expenditures throughout the country up the and including that date of $18.257,552, with a remainder on hand for the four months to May 31, of $910,140

Details of the statement disclose that the sum of $1,441,185 was ex pended up to January 31, for the maintenance of 9.9 corps and outposts in all parts of the United States. item includes rentals of balls and their maintenance, salaries of 1,800 officers, the expenses of work for children and young people, the cost of all local rellef work of whatever nature, and such incidental expenditures as postage, printing, stationery and the like.

In the period covered by the report the sum of $1.688,429 was expended by thirty-four provincial and divisional headquarters for fresh-air farms and camps, comprehensive relief work of a special nature amongst the pool, the sick and the distressed. These headquarters are charged with the oversight and direction of all corps and similar activities in their jurisdiction as well as the extension of Salvation Army effort to unoccupied fields and localities. Hence, this item includes also salaries of executive officers, of clerical and other employees, necessary traveling expenses, postage, the cost of advertising, publicity and a portion of the expenditures incidental to the or ganization of the financial campaigns

Details of Expenditures. Other items detailed in the report include the sum of $621,000, represeating administrative and other expenses borne by National Hendquar ters in New York and Territorial Head querters in Chicago; $157,309 representing the cost of operating and nmin taining 25 rescue homes and maternity hospitals, a general hospital and one for children, 3 children's homes and 11 sium settlements and nurseries; and | $400,000 apportioned according to the 1919 budget for the pension fund for aged or disabled officers.

Most significant, as indicating the remarkable advancement made by the Salvationists during the past year as a result of the 1919 Fund contributed by the country, are the lifting of mortgages to the amount of $1.881,193 and the outlay of $7,038,834 for new buildings and additions, making a total of

Hitherto demands upon the Salvation Army's efforts have been so much greater than its income that it has labored under a tremendous indebtedness, its officers have been reduced to part pay year after year, and the organization, has been handicapped in its operations.

Not All Mortgages Liquidated. Only a part of the mortgage indebt edness was paid off last year, however; the increased demands upon the Army everywhere in the country being so great that increased and new facilities for hospitals, rescue homes and other A my institutions called for the outlay of more than $7,000,000. Army officers hope that the response to the 1920 Home Service Appeal will be such asto permit of the wiping out of much of the remaining mortgage indebtedness, provide for the maintenance of the organization's established activities and make urgently needed extensions and development possible.

There are more than 3,000,000 Ford cars in daily service throughout the world, and fully eighty percent of these are Ford Touring Cars. There are many reasons for this, not the least of which is the simplicity in the design of the car, so easy to understand; likewise it is easy to operate; and mighty inexpensive compared to other motor cars. On the farm, in the city, for business and for family pleasure, it is the car of the people, and the demand is increasing every day. Let us have your order promptly if you want one.
